Tidy up your garden without the stress

Yard Butler's new line of tools for the summer don't look awesome, but what they lack in flash they more than make up for in substance. The Rocket Weeder ($27) helps homeowners knock out the undisputed all-time least-favorite gardening chore – weeding – by grabbing the weed without breaking the roots. The all-steel tool also boasts ergonomic design with an easy-on-the-back handle. The Core Aerator ($24) helps mature or heavy-traffic lawns breathe again by reducing compaction and thatch to let air, water and fertilizer get down to the root zone. Also in the line is the Deep Root Irrigator ($21) and the Step Edger ($28). Visit www.yardbutlerstore.com.
